Introduction

The report that you are about to read is a first step in decoding the symbolic language of your birth chart. It explains the raw materials that you have been given for building a life. It outlines how the overall shape of your chart reflects the overall shape of your personality, what your greatest challenges are likely to be, the strengths you have been given to meet these challenges, and the main arenas you are given for playing out your life's drama.

In this report you may notice certain places where the information seems to be contradictory. This is to be expected, because people are complex. For example, in some situations we are shy and in others, aggressive. When you see repeated patterns, though, take special note: these are apt to be the dominant themes in your life.

Most planets are in the eastern half of the chart.

You prefer to be in charge of your own destiny, rather than following someone else's dreams, adventures, projects or proposals. This tends to make you an outgoing, active person, in charge of your affairs. Independent and outwardly directed, you are conscious of the direction in which you lead your life. An entrepreneurial pursuit of some type will find you at your best. You need followers to help you, so be sure that you attract those who are willing to follow your vision. Be clear, however, as to who is in charge. Joining forces with someone as strong-minded as you may cause the kind of stress that will distract you from your goals. Make all possible allowances for practicality; and then go ahead and pursue your vision.

There are few or no planets in Earth signs.

With a marked lack of planets in Taurus, Virgo or Capricorn, you may find it difficult to handle the practical, everyday details of living with any degree of grace. Practical knowledge is not one of your higher priorities, and you may not particularly like doing things that require hands-on manipulation. You tend to be either unconnected with the day-to-day reality of your life or to make plans that reality dictates cannot come to fruition. Because you dread taking on everyday responsibilities, you may do things that others judge to be childish or irresponsible.

Establishing good habits for daily living will help smooth out some of your inconsistencies. By taking the time to stick with a plan, regimen, or project, you will learn the value of creating things that last. Otherwise you will tend to drift from one idea or concept to another without really settling down and experiencing life on its most fundamental level. Try also to develop your sensual side. Take the time to feel, smell, taste, and physically experience things. Doing this will help keep you in focus and connected to the larger world around you.

There are few or no planets in Water signs.

With very little emphasis in signs such as Cancer, Scorpio or Pisces, you don't carry the baggage of complicated feelings and hypersensitivity to your environment. This allows you to be forthright about your desires. Cool, detached, practical, objective and willful, you have a lack of sentimentality that can be a great asset in times of crisis and emotional stress. Your clearheadedness can lead you to great achievements.

It is easy, however, for you to be out of touch with your own emotional nature. You may feel that an emotional response like crying or moodiness is a sign of weakness that is best avoided. You may find it difficult to deal with those who express themselves from the heart. You end up not knowing how to react, or you may be uncomfortable expressing the appropriate feeling of response. You can also misread situations that call for intuition rather than reason.

painfully and stubbornly, when forces outside you demand that you change and adapt to new conditions. You move most easily into new situations when you are the one to initiate the move. Because of your rather unyielding nature, you may find it difficult to coexist with those whose views oppose yours, and they may feel the same about you. To avoid stress, you may find it most comfortable to choose like-minded mates, business partners and friends.

Is the ongoing drama between two planets a continuing tension that periodically erupts into crises (conjunctions, oppositions and squares), a harmonious alliance where the two planets aid and abet each other (trines and sextiles), an uneasy truce full of ambiguities (certain other aspects in neither of these families), or simply indifference (no aspect at all)? Below you will see which pairs of planets are in aspect in your chart.

Each of the following sections lists the aspects in order of their general importance, with aspects involving the Sun, Moon and fast-moving planets coming first. You can get a further idea of their importance in your particular chart by going to the aspect table at the beginning of this report and finding the five or so aspects with the smallest number of degrees and minutes in the “The orb is” column.

Your Major Challenges

We start with your conjunctions, oppositions and squares because these tend to point out the challenges that you have been set in life. Most people experience these aspects as problems, at least at first. Armed with awareness, however, you can come to view these so-called “hard” aspects as the blessings that they really are. These are the forces that spur you forward. When you face the challenges that these aspects pose, you grow in strength, confidence, wisdom and maturity.

Sun square Moon

Whether the disharmony between your parents was subtle or obvious, it made its mark on you such that it colors the way you react to life as an adult. You seem to be comfortable only in situations that are full of stress and tension. Given the choice between the easy path and the tough one, you (perversely, it seems) choose the one that offers the most resistance. You love a challenge. While this can be helpful in certain business and career situations, it can cause problems in personal relationships. It's best for you to choose partners who don't mind a bit of stress now and then.

Mercury conjunct Saturn

You are a slow, careful, practical and deliberate thinker. You consider every angle and nuance of a situation before taking appropriate action. Because you are so thorough, your decisions are almost always the correct ones. This is fine except in those situations that demand the ability to make quick decisions. A very good organizer, you shine at being able to administrate projects that have clearly formulated, specific goals.

Your emotional responses are very strong, especially those of a sexual nature. Others find your earthy, direct approach to love and sex attractive, even seductive. You pursue your desires with a lusty enthusiasm and you have a great need both to give and receive affection. You have great creative potential, being able to take raw materials and turn them into your own specific idea of what is beautiful and attractive.

Venus conjunct Neptune

You have a romantic and creative imagination. Should you pursue a career in the arts, you will have the ability to convey your vision of an ideal world where all the rules are different from that of the prosaic and dull everyday world. You have the same attitude toward relationships, projecting your need for romance, fantasy and unreality onto another. This can be very problematical when you have to face the harsh realities of paying the mortgage and putting food on the table. Try to temper your idealism with an acceptance of some reality lest you be continually disappointed and disillusioned.

Venus conjunct Ascendant

You have such a charming, warm, engaging and sincere personality that others immediately like you. Your popularity stems from your own need to socialize — you like others as much as they like you. A strong sense of fairness and appropriateness and decorum makes you the ideal peacemaker and diplomat. You will go out of your way to make everything around you harmonious and tranquil.

Venus square Midheaven

You prefer that things around you be laid-back, peaceful and placid. In order to maintain this, you tend to compromise yourself too much, giving way and giving in. By doing this, you often find that you have given away what you wanted to preserve. You may find yourself left with nothing you value, including your self-respect. Try not to succumb to the temptation to be lazy and self-indulgent. It is all right for you to assert yourself once in a while. In fact, you'll be surprised how those around you will applaud your efforts.

Mars conjunct Neptune

By nature you are giving and unselfish. You are more likely to fight for and defend a cause than to stick up for yourself. Your tendency to self-denial and self-effacement can also cause you to shrink from the real world. You may actually be physically weak and prone to illness or you may merely be easily discouraged due to your lack of aggressiveness. Because you tend not to have a great deal of self-discipline and will power, be careful to avoid seeking escape through the use of drugs or alcohol.

Your competitiveness and abundant energy usually serve you well, but you tend to be easily distracted from your goal by quarrels and disagreements with others. You tend to feel that you have been personally insulted should anyone challenge you and you feel that you have to defend yourself. Try not to be such an egotist. Learn to respect the opinions of others, even if they are contrary to your own — find some constructive way to prove that you are right.

Jupiter conjunct Chiron

Generous and hospitable, you have strong social skills and an ability to put people at ease. If your confidence is challenged and you lose belief in yourself, though, you may fill the gap with destructive habits like eating, drinking or spending too much. Once your confidence is renewed, you can use your skills as a speaker, writer or teacher to instruct and help others. You truly like people, and know how to be diplomatic both in giving to others and in getting what you want.

Uranus conjunct North Node

You love to make new acquaintances, especially with those who are unusual or even eccentric. These contacts are often short-lived, but the excitement and intellectual stimulation that they provide make them quite appealing. Finding it difficult to maintain long-standing relationships, you may be lonely at times. But, just when you least expect it, someone new and unique always seems to come into your life, and you soon forget your loneliness.

Neptune conjunct Ascendant

You are known to others as being very imaginative and sensitive. An idealist, you always hope for the best, especially when it comes to relationships. You have the ability to see silver linings even in the midst of the most troubled times. You are naturally giving and unselfish, so much so that at times others may take advantage of your better nature. Try to make sure that the objects of your affection and attention are worthy of it. Also be aware of the reverse situation of becoming overly dependent on another or of misrepresenting yourself to someone. Be truthful at all times.

Neptune square Midheaven

You are unselfish and giving, but not very strong willed. This becomes a major problem when you are in an environment filled with negative energy. You have the ability to pick up “vibes” and will soak up the energy of those around you like a psychic sponge. Because you do not feel confident enough in yourself to take control of your life, you can succumb to the will of those who might take advantage of you, with all sorts of negative consequences. It is important for you to seek out objective advice at those times when you feel confused or when you feel that your best interests are being compromised — and follow that advice if at all possible.

you to change. It is actually helpful to have a balance of hard aspects (like oppositions and squares) to stimulate you to grow, and soft aspects (trines and sextiles) to ease your passage and provide places to rest.

If you are blessed with a predominance of trines and sextiles, your life may tend to be placid and your nature serene. If so, remember that the world around you is probably sorely in need of these qualities that are yours to bestow.

Sun sextile Jupiter

Your sunny, upbeat optimism is infectious. Others enjoy being near you because your zest for life puts them in a positive frame of mind. You tend to think that anything is possible, and that you can and should grow and become more than you are now. Your thoughts are usually powerful enough to make it so. Others tend to trust your opinions. You have a balanced and high-minded attitude that gives you a well-earned reputation for being fair and just. Also, your grand gestures are usually grounded sufficiently in reality to keep you from overdoing things.

Sun sextile Uranus

Your free-spirited, innovative approach to doing things lets you shine in situations that demand creativity and new input. You despise being in stagnant situations and will be the one to stir things up if you begin to feel at all restricted or bored. Your continual search for fresh and stimulating experiences may force you into a rather unsettled lifestyle, but you probably won't mind.

Mercury sextile Venus

You have a keen sense of proportion and balance. This is why you are so diplomatic in speech and manner. You prefer things to move smoothly and will take the necessary steps to see that they do. Once you have focused on an object of affection, you have the ability clearly (and seductively) to express yourself to the lucky person. You are also gifted aesthetically and can communicate your ideas easily through writing, arts or crafts.

Mercury sextile Mars

Self-assured and decisive, you have the ability to make up your own mind about things and to defend your opinions with confidence and determination. You love to argue and debate, usually in a good-natured way. But you can be a bit of a motor-mouth, at times speaking so quickly and excitedly that people either cannot understand you or cannot get a word in edgewise. When you become overly aroused about something, remember to slow down.

others. . Rather than reading books or studying on your own, you prefer to learn directly from people. You delight in conversation, and seek out friends and acquaintances who challenge your intelligence. Also, your restlessness may cause you to travel widely.

Venus sextile Pluto

You rarely have casual or inconsequential relationships. You tend to have just a few friends with whom you are totally and sometimes obsessively involved. The same goes for intimate relationships. You enjoy the excitement that comes from being intimate, not just sexually, but at all levels of experience. You love to explore the motivations behind even the most trivial of actions. As such, you are a very demanding partner or friend. Both of you will grow and become transformed by your encounter(s).

Mars sextile Saturn

You have the ability to accomplish much if you narrow your goals and get rid of unnecessary distractions. You love to organize things so that they work efficiently, and you are not afraid to deal with those nagging, petty details that others seem to avoid. Your practical and ordered existence and your cautious and conservative approach to things allow you to be known as a very effective person. You may not be the quickest to get things done, but you do get them done.

Jupiter trine Uranus

You are never lacking in ideas that would solve your life's problems in new, unique, even bizarre ways. You tend to overestimate your abilities and resources at times in your desire to make the sweeping changes that you think are necessary. If you become a bit more practical, you just may be able to make your innovative plans become reality. Your optimistic, free-spirited attitude is often rewarded by lucky breaks that seem to come "out of the blue."

Jupiter trine North Node

You're not only an idealist; you also back up your idealism with appropriate actions. If you can assist someone you meet, you do so and ask nothing in return. You yourself have been given a helping hand many times, and you enjoy passing on this noble tradition. Much of your time may be spent in philanthropic work so that you are regarded as a rare jewel in your community. Your generous, openhearted approach to life attracts other like-minded individuals, thus assuring your success in life.

Saturn sextile Neptune

You have a realistic attitude about what it takes to bring about the dreams you have for the betterment of yourself and others. You will work long, hard and happily to further a cause that you have decided is important. Your ability to deny yourself pleasures to attain a goal serves as an example to others who may not be able to exert as much self-discipline as you.

influential and positive role model. Remaining confident and true to yourself will prevent you from lashing out at those who criticize your outspoken remarks, bohemian behavior or unique approach to life.

Chiron trine North Node

Throughout much of your life you have experienced the pain and isolation of feeling like an outsider. Whenever you come into contact with others who also have difficulty communicating, your sympathy is easily aroused. Identifying with the underdog provides a sense of purpose and gives you an enormous need to reach out to others. Working hard has always been an outlet for self-expression, and it makes you feel needed. Most important, professional recognition does wonders to improve your self-esteem.

unsettling quality, indicating problems or issues that it's hard to get a grip on. They are like interesting puzzles that call for a creative solution.

Sun semisquare Venus

You are physically very attractive. Usually this a blessing, but at times it causes you problems. There are times when you would rather not be noticed, but this seems to be impossible and you appear to be your own worst enemy. This may cause you to feel uncomfortable and angry and insecure, and you will find it difficult to articulate your feelings because you are shy and soft-spoken by nature. Be aware that this will be a continuing problem. Learn to use it to your best advantage whenever possible and try to develop strategies so that you can maintain your privacy and peace of mind.

Moon sesquare Mars

You are both aggressive and emotional, which can make it very difficult for others to deal with you at times. While it is admirable that you are usually so open and honest and direct about your feelings, others may wish for a break now and then from your moodiness, argumentativeness and irritability. But those who really care for you will stick with you and realize that your storminess is soon past.

Moon semisextile Uranus

You do not seem to trust your own emotional responses or the emotional responses of others, and this annoys you terribly. Your usual way of proceeding involves having you try to get very close to someone and then panicking and having some sort of unplanned emotional outburst that drives the other away from you. Because this really was not your intention, you get very frustrated and embittered. You must look to your early childhood upbringing in order to understand why this pattern is at work. Perhaps you had an unfortunate experience with your mother — or the person who played that role for you — wherein you were denied the love and security that you should have had and you are now repeating that pattern over and over. Either learn to live alone and like it, or seek the advice of a respected counselor to help put this problem in a proper perspective.

Moon sesquare Neptune

You are very sensitive and intuitive by nature. You have the ability to “read” a situation just by being exposed to its “vibes.” This gift can be quite confusing to you because you usually deny your own best interests for the sake of anyone else involved. It is important that you try to surround yourself with positive, upbeat energies because they invigorate you, while negative energy patterns sap your strength and will power, leaving you at the mercy of those around you.

You must feel that your sense of security and peace of mind would be threatened if you do not motivate yourself to move forward toward some sort of clearly realizable goal. As such, you tend to make major life decisions that are not always rational and logical and that you sometimes regret later on. But learn to trust your instincts as they are often correct — the heart has its reasons, too.

Moon quincunx Chiron

Self-doubt has plagued you since you were a child. Once you develop confidence in your capacity to love, you may finally conquer jealousy, possessiveness and a need for control. You exhibit great empathy for the underdog, and tend to overcompensate for your own insecurities by helping others. You are the one whom your friends, family and colleagues rely on just a little too much. Watch out for people who take advantage of your kindness.

Mercury semisquare Uranus

Your mind is quick and agile, but you are nervous and impatient. You cannot stand still long enough to deal with things in a logical, orderly manner, nor do you need to. You are always two or three steps ahead of others because you instantaneously see linkages that others must labor to sense. You do not take kindly to rules and structures imposed on you, so it is good to seek out environments over which you have some control.

Mercury semisextile Midheaven

You feel a continuing tension between what you consider your career objectives and what you are really interested in doing with your life. Your career goals were probably shaped by your family or other important guide figures. You accept the appropriateness of these goals, but at the same time feel that you have other interests as well. You find this recurring pattern annoying. Try to accept that both parts of the pattern are important to you. You will feel less guilty and frustrated if you allow your alternative interests to manifest in the form of hobbies, and put a lot of time and energy into developing these other parts of yourself.

Saturn semisquare North Node

You will have a continuing problem in your life trying to feel comfortable when meeting other people. You hate to be out of control to such an extent that it can paralyze you in situations that demand that you be socially active. Try not to let these fears make you sullen, moody and uncooperative. You should be aware that most other people are as lacking in self-confidence in social situations as you are. It takes a rather large amount of faith and trust to give of yourself to someone you don't know, but you must do it now and then. If you try not to have too high expectations about the way others respond to you, you'll probably feel better about things in general. Where possible, stick with those who are tried and true. On the other hand, do try to get out and mix once in a while.

The meanings of the twelve houses echo those of the twelve zodiacal signs, but are more specific and concrete. For example, the second sign, Taurus, is much concerned with the material world, whereas the second house deals with your actual possessions: how you feel about them, and how you acquire them.

The house delineations that follow show how the affairs of each house are flavored by the sign that lies on its cusp. Since houses are sometimes larger than signs, a house may also have one or more signs completely enclosed or “intercepted” within it, in which case you will find additional material about the intercepted signs in a house. Most important, you will learn below in what areas of life the planets — the main actors in your drama — are disposed to be most active, and how the way each planet operates is influenced by both its house and its sign.

House 1: Your Interface with the World

The first house focuses on the basic equipment that you have been given for interacting with the world: your body and your physical constitution, your face, your appearance, your personality, mannerisms and the way you present yourself. It may not be how you see yourself, but it is how others tend to perceive you, and you should be aware that it has an important effect on how you are accepted in social situations. Planets in the first house tend to be strong and “out-front,” especially when they are close to (that is, conjunct) your Ascendant.

Libra on the First

Attractive and popular, you have a charm that helps you to get your own way and prevents others from getting angry with you. “Peace and harmony at all costs” is your battle cry. You like to ameliorate or to cosmetically hide any physical ugliness or any angry feelings between people. You prefer to dress elegantly, and pride yourself on your taste. In your attempt to be agreeable at all times, beware of the tendency to compromise yourself. You tend to be a bit of a social butterfly, and at times can be vain and lazy. For the most part, however, you are gracious and affectionate, and your refined and aristocratic demeanor serves as model to others.

Venus in the First

Your charming, agreeable nature makes you very popular with others. Physically, you are quite attractive and will remain young looking all your life. You are very graceful and possibly quite seductive, and you go out of your way to make a good impression on others. Be careful that you do NOT always try to get your way by coaxing and flattery — it could make you overly dependent on the good will of others. It will be difficult for you, but you must try to learn to be more self-assertive if you would live an independent life.

You are so full of energy, so “wired,” that you always seem to be at the bursting point. Self-assertive, courageous and daring, you have great leadership potential if you can only stifle your impatience with those who do not have your boundless energy and enthusiasm. Participatory sports would be a good way for you to deal with your competitiveness and your need to flex your muscles. When you act without thinking, you are often reckless. That can lead to accidents, so be careful.

Mars in Libra

You are very aware of the need to cooperate with others in order to further any effort. You are usually willing to compromise with others, although you can be quite competitive in a friendly way. Fair-minded and impartial, you are able to sense injustice and wish to take corrective actions to make proper compensations. You see both sides of issues and questions, but you tend to be undecided or wavering when forced to make choices that might make you vulnerable or unpopular.

Jupiter in the First

Others like you because you radiate so much warmth and positive energy. You love to do things in a big way — you prefer broad expansive gestures. As such, you are quite noticeable. You may be a physically large person, but, if not, you are definitely known to be large of heart — your philanthropic, generous nature is your hallmark. You do have a tendency to do things to excess, though. Be careful not to become too pompous, too full of vanity or too patronizing.

Jupiter in Libra

You are generally good at balancing opinions and judging issues, but you tend to be indecisive when it comes to making up your own mind. You are objective and quite concerned with fair play and justice. But, when it comes to yourself, you are so aware that whatever you do might upset the apple cart that you often choose to compromise rather than do anything that might make you lonely or vulnerable. Relationships are very important to you — you learn about yourself and grow through observing yourself interacting with others. Your aesthetic tastes are refined, but expansive and expensive.

Neptune in the First

You are an extremely impressionable individual. You are so sensitive that you can easily pick up on the moods and feelings of others, whether they be good or bad. As such, you should try to avoid negative or pessimistic people because they seem to drain you of all your energy and initiative. Your ability to allow your ego to become transparent makes you good at acting or imitating. Try not to hide behind these alternate personalities too often, however, or you may become confused as to what is real and what is not. Above all, try to be truthful at all times because it will be tempting for you to use your acting abilities to lie or to be deceitful. As a rule, though, you are a very kind, aware person.

enthusiasm. Self-absorbed a great deal of the time, you will make your mark once you stop feeling sorry for yourself. As you become more disciplined and cooperative, your uniqueness and original vision will be a major contribution to the world of ideas.

Chiron in Libra

You have a unique ability for mediating conflicts and bringing people together. Charming and exuding an air of beauty, you strive for social acceptance at all costs even if it means suppressing anger and fear. Early in life you may have been hurt by someone you loved. Don't allow mistrust to overtake you. Extend kindness to others without expecting anything in return. Others will respond to your natural ability to love and be loved.

House 2: What You Own and Value

The second house goes a step outward from your own person and has to do with resources that you possess, including money. It shows your attitude toward what you own or would like to own: what you crave and covet, what you most value, how you go about getting it, how you take care of it, and whether or not you hang on to it. By extension, it can also indicate your sense of values: not just material things but also the attitudes and ideas that you hold dear.

Scorpio on the Second

You are emotionally involved with your own personal resources — so much so that you rarely, if ever, share what you have with others. You tend to think that, if you give of what you have, you yourself will become personally diminished. This unreasonable fear of loss makes you very withdrawn and secretive and, at times, quite miserly. You regard your resources as tools to push life to its uttermost limits. You enjoy making investments and are willing to take risks, and you are devastated when things do not work out as planned. But you are a careful planner — your nest egg should grow over time.

No planets in the Second

The second house of your horoscope contains no planets. This means that you tend not to be overly concerned about what you own, and that your attitudes and value structures are most likely integrated into your character as a whole. If outside influences upset this balance and cause these issues to become more important than usual, it will probably be only temporary.

Sagittarius on the Third

You are known for your wide-ranging mental interests. You need constant mental stimulation in order to feel vibrant and alive. You are an eager student and a willing teacher of what you know. You are at your best when those who need your knowledge are allowed to come to you for advice and assistance — and you freely give it. However, you are not known for having a great deal of self-discipline in your studies and, although you usually understand the overall picture, the small but significant details of a subject often elude you. You are not overly sentimental about your home life — you need a place to check into once in a while in order to rest up. But, because you tend to be so very restless, you are soon on the go again.

No planets in the Third

Your third house is not activated by planetary activity. For the most part, how you order your daily life activities is not an issue for you. It is something that you rarely think about or have to plan consciously.

House 4: Where You Come From

Being at the very bottom of the wheel, the fourth house is both where you originate and where you come to rest. As such, it describes your parents and ancestral background, and later the home or protected space into which you retreat each day for nourishment and sleep. A deeply personal house, the fourth is concerned with security and peace of mind, the safety of loved ones, and how you care for others and yourself. The place of your roots and the earth beneath your feet, the fourth house rules the house or apartment where you live and also real estate in general. In your trajectory through life, the fourth house shows your origins and where you are coming from, just as the tenth house and Midheaven describe your career and where you aim to go.

Capricorn on the Fourth

You prefer a structured and regimented home life — everything in your home must have a purpose and must be “in its place.” You regard disorganization or clutter as a personal failure and if there is anything you hate or fear it is to have others think that you made a mistake. You have very specific goals for your family and family members and are devastated when they are not met or are deviated from in any way. You are at your best when maintenance of your home is efficient and carefree — this lets you concentrate on whatever else you need pay attention to in order to get you where you think you should be going.

No planets in the Fourth

You have no planets in the fourth house. This means that home and family are not likely to be major issues for you, or demand much time and energy on your part. For further information on how you handle the issues of security and peace of mind, look to the house and aspects of your Moon.

Aquarius on the Fifth

When it comes to speculation, you have a detached and objective point of view which can be very helpful — you will avoid the trap of impulsiveness or of making decisions with your heart rather than with your head. But this is disadvantageous when it comes to romance because you are inclined to be turned off by overly emotional reactions on the part of your lover. Also, at times when spontaneity would be desired, you are at a loss. You prefer relationships that have a common intellectual base and tend to be less critical of the other person's quirks and oddities as long as you both think alike. You are very concerned about the welfare of your children and will push them to develop their mental skills, but you would rather not get too close to them emotionally.

No planets in the Fifth

The fifth house of your horoscope contains no planets. This does not mean that you are any less self-expressive or creative or fun-loving than the next person. It just means that your overall character is balanced to the extent that these issues are not usually paramount for you.

House 6: Taking Care of Business

After the candle-lit dinner comes the credit-card bill. Courtship is followed by the nitty-gritty of married life: babies, diapers and saving up for college. After your creative impulse comes the need to learn the technique of actually making something. And if you overexpend your energy, you get health problems. The sixth house rules taking care of business on an everyday level. This includes your job, paying bills and keeping the house clean. It also includes maintaining your body with medical checkups and a daily regimen of nutrition and exercise. In the old books it ruled servants, and it can by extension rule the way you offer service to others. It also ruled useful animals, particularly small ones like cats, dogs, chickens and pigs. Today this usually means small pets, which exist in the personal, intimate part of your life that is signified by houses that lie below the horizon.

Pisces on the Sixth

When you are at your best, you are self-sacrificial and giving at the work place. You try to ease the burden of those around you by doing tasks they disdain — make sure that others are not merely taking advantage of your better nature. When you are at your worst, you fear involvement with others and try to shrink from any responsibilities whatsoever. Health problems occur most often at those times when you are feeling weak and vulnerable and some symptoms can be quite difficult to diagnose. Try to work in a positive environment because you tend to soak up the energies of those around you — negative people drain you and make you dull and listless.

true sense of relatedness, but along the way there may be fights as you each define your individuality and establish your own territory. Not only is the seventh the traditional house of marriage, it is also the house of open enemies, your sparring partners in life. In general, since the first house is you yourself, the seventh house, directly opposite, is the other person in a variety of situations. Besides signifying a marriage or sparring partner, the seventh house rules business partners, or those on the other side of a desk, such as consultants, lawyers, therapists or astrologers.

Aries on the Seventh

You have an aggressive attitude toward relationships. You need others in order to feel complete, but you always want to maintain the upper hand — to be in charge. You exult in the give-and-take of relating because you learn so much about human motivations and character from your partner. But you tend to be so uptight when you think your rights are being threatened that you often aggravate your partner and this brings the two of you further and further apart. This also causes you to fight equally as hard to maintain the relationship — you are afraid to face the world alone. Thus, relationships, whether of a business or personal nature, can be quite stormy and tempestuous, but you would really not have it any other way.

No planets in the Seventh

You have no planets in the seventh house of your horoscope. This does not mean that you will never have any relationships or that you will never get married. What it does indicate is that you will not find your life overly dominated by working out problems associated with relationships. You will experience more or less activity in these areas occasionally, along with everyone else.

House 8: Giving It All Away

Having achieved a relationship of equals in the seventh house, you are ready to give up your separateness in the eighth, merging in sexual union and becoming one on a deep emotional level. If the second house was about grasping and possessing, the eighth is about sharing and letting go. While the second rules your own money, the eighth rules how you deal with other people's money and how you pool resources. On a mundane level the eighth rules taxes, but on a fundamental level it can rule giving up anything you value, including your ego and even your body. In relaxing your grasp on what you find most dear, you may find that you are really not as dependent on it as you thought. In relinquishing, you achieve a new level of freedom, and feel lighter, renewed and more alive. Related to all this, the eighth signifies mysteries such as death and resurrection, magic and the occult, and the deep parts of the psyche that are beyond our conscious grasp.

Moon in the Eighth

You have very powerful emotional responses which, at times, are difficult for you to keep under control. You experience constant mood swings, running the full gamut from elation to depression in a continuing cycle. These radical mood shifts are a part of a cycle of personal growth and evolution — you should learn to develop enough objectivity to observe it. Even though your feelings are often intense, you tend to prefer to keep them to yourself. However, be careful not to suppress feelings of anger and frustration entirely or you may either become ill or you may just let it all out at the most inappropriate of times.

Moon in Taurus

Warmth, comfort, security and familiar surroundings are necessary for you to feel at ease. Very loving and affectionate, you prefer a steady, patterned way of life. Patient, calm and steadfast, you are not easily upset. Others look to you for support. You tend to be a slow starter and a slow mover — others may try to rush you, but they will never succeed. Emotionally, you are quite stubborn — your attitudes about people and things were firmly set in your youth and will change very little as an adult. You are also very cautious and conservative about spending money. It is not that you are selfish, you just need to feel secure. Beware of a tendency to become overly complacent and too self-satisfied.

House 9: Expanding Your Awareness

Approaching the highest point in the sky, the ninth house wafts you up and out of your rut, giving you a broad and lofty view of the terrain beneath. Whereas the third ruled basic schooling and short trips, the ninth rules higher education and long-distance travel. It removes you from your everyday routine so you can see the overall pattern, the overlooked connections between things. It rules all-embracing concepts (such as your philosophy of life) and institutions (like religion and law) that stand over society and keep it bound together. It can also signify your teachers and mentors, your library, and all else that broadens your outlook.

Gemini on the Ninth

You have the approach of a dilettante when it comes to forming your life philosophy. You are fascinated by so many different ideas and concepts that you find it difficult to choose any one given philosophy as your standard. You do manage, however, to become quite learned in many different areas because of your insatiable curiosity. You have the ability to remain detached and objective enough to sort out competing claims and explain their differences to others. This makes you a good candidate for the teaching professions. You are an avid reader and your innate restlessness probably attracts you to traveling around quite a bit.

You, and your peer group as well, are attracted to new, unusual and revolutionary thoughts, ideas and lifestyles. You prefer abstract, idealistic solutions to practical, immediately useful answers. You delight in communications, the mass media, electronics, computers and all sorts of gadgetry.

North Node in the Ninth

You're spurred on to form relationships with others due to a sense of having a special kindred spirit with those you meet. This is usually based on a shared set of ideas and concepts. People who think along the same lines as yourself interest you, and others, quite simply, do not. Those you meet at school, either teachers or fellow students, will have a profound effect on your life — friendships formed from these associations may last a lifetime. You have ideas to share with others and need a forum in which to disseminate them. As such, you'll choose to become part of organizations and groups that will help you to maximize your impact.

North Node in Gemini

Throughout your life, you consciously seek out many different contacts with others. Many of these are of very short duration, not necessarily because you're fickle, but because you are excited by the prospect of meeting someone new. Intellectual stimulation is what you crave from others, and you will learn something new from almost everyone you meet. Partly due to your curiosity about what they're doing, you will be well known to neighbors and relatives. You delight in keeping up-to-date on the latest news and gossip.

House 10: Your Public Self

If the fourth house showed your roots and where you came from, the tenth shows what you are ultimately aiming at in life. Whereas the sixth shows your daily job and how you make a living, the tenth signifies your career, your personal contribution, your reputation and what you become known for. Some astrologers also believe that the fourth house signifies one parent, and the tenth signifies the other. The tenth-house parent is most likely the one who prepares you for the world. The closer a planet is to the Midheaven, the more likely that planet is to be the major significator of your life's direction.

Cancer on the Tenth

You have the unique ability to strive with great energy and initiative to reach the top of your chosen field and, at the same time, not make anyone feel bitter about how you got there. Your strong sense of compassion and sympathy and true caring about the needs of others makes you respected and loved by your colleagues and those you supervise. Very sensitive to the moods and feelings of others, you pick up "vibes" quickly and can turn them to your advantage. But avoid becoming too overly protective and smothering of those in your care — or they will resist all your best intentions.

usually convinced that your own ideas are correct, and you enjoy persuading others of their correctness. In fact, you can be stubborn about your beliefs and principles, and can get defensive when they are challenged. You also have a talent for organizing, directing and planning, and take delight in being asked for your advice and counsel.

Saturn in the Tenth

You are a perfectionist and you want to make a mark in the world. If careful planning and hard work are what is needed in order to become a success, your success is assured. Your self-discipline and thoroughness is such that you will probably become expert in your chosen field, and you may want to share your knowledge with others in the role of teacher, especially later on in your life. You are so demanding on yourself and so aware of the hard road you have chosen that, when you get despondent or frustrated, you tend to see the world as a cold, forbidding, merciless and unforgiving place. When this happens, try to relax and bask in the respect and admiration of those who realize the worthiness of what you have accomplished to that point.

Saturn in Leo

Extremely self-reliant, you set very high standards of conduct and decorum for yourself, and you expect others with whom you associate to be that way, too. It is important that you had a strong father figure or role model early in life to mold your life course and direction. When you feel that those around you are unworthy or behaving badly, you withdraw, preferring solitude rather than associating with those who might besmirch your reputation.

House 11: Your Circle of Acquaintances

The eleventh is the last house of relationships: not brothers, sisters and neighbors who just happen to be around you, not one-to-one partners, but the circle of friends and associates whom you actively choose. It shows the way you make and keep friendships, the organizations you join, the networking you do, and the general way you interact with groups. After you have established yourself as an individual and learned to form personal relationships with others, you are ready to think about the common good. This is why the eleventh often signifies groups dedicated to social or other sorts of collective improvement.

Leo on the Eleventh

You take great pride in your friendships and associations. Because it takes a major creative effort to attempt to work out group rather than personal goals, you gladly donate your time, money and prestige to worthy charitable and community projects. You are attracted to associations with those who can advance your own power, prestige and influence. You usually give back as well as you get, but just make sure that you are not merely trying to toady to others who you may think are better than you. Also, beware of a tendency to be arrogant and supercilious of those you consider your inferiors — it does not become you.

because they tend to enjoy your genuine warmth and affection. Very spirited and willful, proud and self-important at times, you demand your own way. You are quite honest, however, and the respect of others is very important to you. You never compromise yourself and you pursue your goals with persistence and dedication. Your regal presence and demeanor draw you to positions of leadership and authority. But beware of being overly hardheaded, domineering, ostentatious or patronizing or you will lose the goodwill and admiration that you enjoy. Very theatrical, you live life on a grand scale wherever and whenever possible. Your strength and energy vitalizes those who come in contact with you.

Pluto in the Eleventh

Friends and associates play powerful roles in your personal growth and development. You tend to attract those who are very powerful and influential and who can assist you along your path. This is a potentially dangerous energy, however — be careful that friends do not try to manipulate or control you, and, reciprocally, do not succumb to the temptation to use them the same way. For the most part, you are not a joiner of groups, unless they happen to support your own notions of far-reaching reform.

Pluto in Leo

Your entire generation was born at a time when the relationship of the individual to society as a whole was being thoroughly re-examined. You and your contemporaries will make major attempts to find a balance between the need to be self-sufficient and the need to honor debts of social commitment.

House 12: The Hidden You

The twelfth house is where planets go just after they have risen. Here planets are still wet behind the ears, blinking in the sunlight and unsteady on their feet. Feeling completely vulnerable, planets in the twelfth tend to hide. Their energies can become repressed and secretive, and sometimes they lurk as complexes in the subconscious. This is why the twelfth is associated with self-sabotage, with hidden enemies, and with prison and whatever else makes you feel confined. The traditional association with hospitals and prisons suggest that constructive ways of dealing with twelfth-house problems include helping others who are similarly repressed or confined. Also, some with a strong twelfth-house emphasis become successful as undercover workers or as the power behind the throne.

Virgo on the Twelfth

Beneath your usually placid surface, you are often troubled by petty annoyances and anxieties. As a matter of fact, you devote much time and energy to seemingly being in total control of your life simply because you are afraid of what might happen should things get out of hand. This, of course, can be quite confusing to you until you learn to deal with this problem with the objectivity that you are known for. Do not be afraid to order and discipline your life in such a way that you can assuage these hidden fears of inadequacy. You should be especially aware that if you ignore these psychological issues, they may surface as physical health problems that will be difficult to diagnose.

A Mirror of Your Uniqueness

This report is based on the position of the Sun, Moon and planets at the moment of your birth, as seen from the point on Earth where you were born. Such an arrangement of planets and stars will never be repeated in exactly the same form. Like the genes that determine your body and temperament, your astrological chart is made up of the same basic parts that other humans have, but the arrangement of these parts is uniquely your own.

You could think of your birth moment as a seed that contains the potential for how you will unfold. The arrangement of the planets at your birth does not, however, cause your body structure and temperament in the way that the patterning of your DNA causes it. Instead, the planetary positions at your birth employ the language of symbols to mirror who you are. Like a mirror, your chart enables you to see yourself from outside yourself, and it therefore extends your point of view.

To use a different analogy, your chart shows the deck you've been dealt, the raw materials you are given from which to fashion a life. Nobody's perfect: we are all given our special problems to solve and our special strengths and beauties. In knowing what you have to work with, you will be better able to make use of your gifts, fill in (or at least be comfortable about) what you lack, and grow in the life directions that are right for you and you alone.

Instead of assuming that there is one norm for everyone, astrology attempts to show the special pattern that is right for you. In doing so, it can give you clues as to how you can more fully and consciously fill the unique role that you have been given in this lifetime, and enrich the world with the gifts that only you can bestow.
